

Amy Jeffers is the Director of Pathways Regional Prevention Center which provides alcohol, tobacco, and other drug (ATOD), and behavioral health prevention in a 10-county area in northeast Kentucky. She has 15-years of experience working with youth and adult community prevention coalitions, KY-ASAP Local Boards, and other community and state groups. In addition, she manages the Tobacco Prevention Enhancement Site (PES) which provides technical assistance statewide. Amy earned a master's degree in Counseling and a bachelor's degree in Criminal Justice from Marshall University. She is a Certified Prevention Specialist and has been the recipient of the Certified Prevention Professional of the Year and the Robert Straus Award for "Outstanding Service in Substance Abuse Prevention in Kentucky." She has a passion for prevention because it promotes positive choices, builds resilience and helps instill skills that are valuable throughout the lifespan.